ABOUT ME

I am a passionate and adaptable professional who enjoys creating amazing user experiences and tackling technical challenges. I have taught myself frontend development using HTML, CSS, JavaScript, and ReactJS, one of the most popular frameworks in the industry. I have more than six months of experience developing with ReactJS and using tools like Chrome DevTools to debug and optimize my code.

I also have skills in communication, radio and TV production, audio-visual specialization, and project management. I have a professional working proficiency in English and can use systems like Notion, HubSpot, Go High Level and Slack. I am open-minded, detail-oriented, responsible, and confident. I can work independently or in a team, meet deadlines, and learn from others.
